THURSDAY EVENING, MARCH 17.

A. T. STEWART AND THE APPLE-WOMAN.
—There is a queer story of the superstition of his career as a New York merchant until shortly before his death, he imagined that his fortune was bound up in that of the little old apple-woman who had a stand in front of his store. When his chief store was down by the City Hall this little old apple-woman was encouraged and protected by him, and when he moved further up Broadway to the big white building now occupied by Denning, it is said that he personally superintended the carrying of the little apple-woman's effects to a new stand outside of it. Here she stayed during all of his prosperity in these new quarters, but shortly before his death she disappeared. Stewart looked upon her as a mascot, and he often said, so the story goes, that when she died or left the place his good luck would go with her. Strange to say, it was even so. A few months after this Stewart began to decline, and the apple-woman was hardly forgotten before he was in his grave.

Deer are abundant in Calaveras county, Cal. A herd of twenty-six came down to a settler's cabin the other day, and he shot five of them without going twenty feet from his door. Two miners on snow-shoes, going through the woods, came upon a fine doe and ran her down in the deep snow.

"A Perfect Flood of Sunshine"

It will cure the most excruciating periodical pains, and relieve you of all irregularities and give healthy action. It will positively cure internal inflammation and ulceration, misplacement and all kindred disorders. Price reduced to one dollar. By druggists.
